Type the job.
Get a priced quote.

Quotable gives tradespeople their evenings back. Describe a job in your own words and it lists the materials, prices them live at UK merchants and works out the labour, ready to send before you're back in the van.

On the tools

Built for people with dusty hands and a phone, not a desk and a spreadsheet.

Straight

Real prices, linked. Anything we couldn't price is marked, never guessed.

Quick

A quote in about a minute. Everything else gets out of the way.

Trade-made

The look and the words come from the job: dockets, vans, plasterboard.

From software to the trade.

The first brand looked like any SaaS product. Version 2 is built from the trade itself: van lettering, docket totals and a Q that works like a tape measure.

Before

Montserrat, an orange Q on a navy word.

After

Archivo set wide, with the tape-measure Q.

A Q that measures up.

1. The case.
   A heavy navy ring, like the body of a tape measure.
2. The tape.
   The tail is the tape pulled out in docket orange, the only colour that means money or action.
3. The cut.
   A gap is masked out around the tail, not painted, so the mark sits cleanly on paper, cards, the navy sidebar or a photo.

One mark, three uses.

Lockup

The main logo. The Q stands in for the word's first letter.

Q mark

App icon, favicon, avatars and the sidebar.

Inverse

White ring on navy. The tail stays orange.

Room to breathe.

Keep clear space of at least x on every side, where x is the thickness of the Q's ring.

Headings are set wide (118%) and heavy (800), like the lettering on a tradesman's van. Body text stays regular. Money and quantities use tabular figures, so prices line up in columns.
